

Priest-author completes new book

San Pedro Region

Father Jim Bradley, associate pastor at St. Bruno Church in Whittier, was recently honored with a book signing at the Good Shepherd Catholic Gift Shop in La Habra to celebrate the second edition of his well-received book "Biddy," described as an "endearing book about Father Bradley's mother, Bridget "Biddy" Smyth.

Father Bradley's other books include "Short and Simple," "Only on Sunday" and "Anyday." He currently has two books pending publication.

A native of Navan, County Meath, Ireland, Father Bradley is well-known to St. Bruno School students as an engaging and fun story-teller. In addition to writing, Father Bradley has worked as a writer and commentator with the BBC Wales, The Catholic Universe, Fleet Street, London and as a weekly newspaper columnist. In 1994 he was elected a Lifetime Member of the National Union of Journalists in recognition of his contribution to journalism over 30 years.
